High School Seniors Hear Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday Night

Senior High School Auditorium Is Crowded For Mid-Year Service

Over 200 In Class In Attendance—Sermon By Dr. G. S. Bennett

An overflow crowd stood for more than an hour at the Senior high school last night as an impressive baccalaureate service for over 200 seniors of the January commencement class was conducted with Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, delivering a challenging sermon intended to stress the simple things that God and mankind expect.

As Dr. Bennett—making his fifth baccalaureate appearance in four years—recited the inspiring words that filled his timely message, bearing "The Great Requirement" as its title, the listeners who stood in the front of the high school hall were as attentive as were those who filled the 1,200 available seats.

Sermon Timely One
The baccalaureate sermon recalled the words of Micah, the prophet of old, who sought divine wisdom for a doomed people 2,700 years ago. Dr. Bennett's text was found in Micah 6:8. The baccalaureate sermon brought out a comparison between Micah's Biblical days and today.

For the class of seniors, enrobed in gray commencement cap and gown, the entire main section of the school auditorium was reserved, and, following out tradition, the audience saw the graduates file in and out in single file order to the orchestra strains of Mendelssohn's (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Two new license plates of other states are added to those already glimpsed by Pa Newc in New Castle. They are New Jersey, black with bright red numerals and letters, and Texas, a gray background with brick-red letters.

Looks like springtime on Lawrence county farms. Large numbers of ploughed fields are to be noted around the countryside.

Report reaches Pa Newc from North Beaver township that both a bluebird and a grasshopper have been seen there lately.

Announcement that an energetic campaign is to be waged against dogs that are allowed to run at large will be welcome news to property owners in sections of the city where the dog nuisance is noticeable. Owners of dogs must keep them tied up if they are kept in the city.

There is one place in this city that seems to be a magnet for a crowd practically all the time that it is open—the public library. A record demand is being made on the service of the library these days.

Several persons were noted sitting on the front porch of their home yesterday, just as though it was mid-summer. Temperature got up around 65 degrees at that.

A small frame building near Coal-town, used for many years as a church, has been razed, Pa Newc notes. The little school that was on the same plot has been converted into a garage building.

Speaking of weather and that old worn-out robin story, well spring is coming all right. Saw some little boys running about on Neshannock (Continued On Page Two)

One Hundred In Ireland Injured Result Of Riots

Clashes Take Heavy Toll Of Injured As Campaign Climax Nears

BOTH PARTIES ARE CONFIDENT

(International News Service)
DUBLIN, Jan. 23.—With at least 100 rioters lying injured as a result of political clashes, the Irish Free State election campaign reached its climax today as adherents of both parties began last minute efforts to gain victory.

Followers of both President Eamon De Valera, who precipitated the violent campaign by dissolving the Dail, and former President William T. Cosgrave, entered the closing hours of the political fray full of vigor and determined to win. About 100 were injured, many of them seriously, when rioting broke out between white army members and hostile factions. As the rioting swept through the Dublin streets, police charged with swinging batons, felling many.

Political observers thought that the balloting, which begins tomorrow, would show that neither party can claim a large margin of supremacy, and that chances of victory for most of the conditions are fairly even.

Hurt Last July Still In Hospital

New Jersey Man Expects To Be Able To Leave Hospital Here Soon

Herman Hahn, a business man of Atlantic City, N. J., who was injured in an automobile accident on the coast last July, is improving slowly in the New Castle hospital and will probably be in shape to be discharged within the near future.

When the accident occurred Mr. Hahn was driving west. In making the turn under the B. & P. tracks on the Butler road his car became unmanageable and he crashed into a telephone pole at the edge of the Weingartner Gardens. He was terribly injured and for a time his life was despaired of. Gradually he fought his way back and a few days ago the weights were taken from his leg, which had been badly shattered.

SHOULDER INJURED IN FALL SATURDAY

Tripping over a railroad tie near his home, Charles Bishop of 505 Bell avenue sustained a dislocated shoulder Saturday evening. It was not thought the injury was serious at first.

When his shoulder became painful Sunday afternoon, he was brought to the Jamieson Memorial hospital, where the full extent of his injuries was revealed.

January Plowing Now In Progress

It is not often that plowing can be done in January, but a visit to the rural sections shows many farmers at work turning up the soil which has been in sod. It will be harrowing in the spring, when it will be ready to be planted. Plowing at this season is an advantage as it gives the sod a chance to rot before spring and makes the ground easier to work, especially if it is planted in corn or potatoes.

Arizona's "Tiger Slayer" Will Ask For Freedom At Hands Of Pardon Board

IS SCHEDULED TO DIE FEBRUARY 17

(International News Service)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 23.—Fighting to obtain a full pardon from her death sentence, Winnie Ruth Judd, condemned "double" murderer, today sought an opportunity to appear before the Arizona pardon board.

Before being returned to her cell in condemned row in the state prison at Florence, where she is scheduled to be hanged Feb. 17 for the murder of Agnes Anne Lerol, Mrs. Judd declared she hoped to plead her own case before the pardon board this week.

Much Prize Money Comes To County

Local Farmers Bring Back Over $1,000 In Prizes From State Show

Lawrence county exhibitors at the state farm show, held in Harrisburg last week, brought back a total of $1,005.50 in prize money, County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch revealed this morning.

One of the biggest winners was C. L. Brenneman, who had two classes of cattle entered. In the beef cattle division, Brenneman cleaned up everything, being the only exhibitor.

Dr. Frederick Taylor of Pulaski took second place and a silver medal in the certified milk exhibit, which was judged for quality. Bacterial content, flavor, odor, visible dirt, fat, solids not fat and acidity were the points on which the milk was judged.

Roosevelt And Insurgent Bloc Leaders Confer

Believe Senator Cutting Who Bolted Republicans To Be In Cabinet

LA FOLLETTE URGES DIRECT RELIEF

President-Elect In Georgia To Determine Policies And Cabinet

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Jan. 23.—President-Elect Roosevelt's sustained efforts to align the insurgent bloc of the Republican party behind his forthcoming Democratic administration apparently had taken a gigantic stride today as a result of his first hours in the "Little White House" at Warm Springs.

Rooseveltian support of the bill appropriating $500,000,000 for direct federal relief of unemployed, sponsored by Progressives, and determination of two new cabinet officers were understood to be involved.

Insurgents Call

The nation's next executive came to this southern health resort for the purpose of finally formulating his administrative policies and picking cabinet. His first callers, significantly, were Senators Robert M. La Follette (R., of Wisconsin), and Robinson Cutting (R., of New Mexico).

Following a Sunday night conference on the rim of Pine Mountain, it appeared that Mr. Roosevelt was prepared to endorse, with some amendments, the La Follette measure to distribute half a billion dollars direct from the federal treasury among the needy.

Also, there were indications that Senator Cutting, a Republican who bolted his party in the last campaign, might become the next secretary of interior.

Both senators denied that anything but unemployment relief was discussed.

Young May Be Secretary

The other cabinet position rumored to be involved was that of secretary of state. Mr. Roosevelt is represented as being anxious to appoint Owen D. Young, New York financier, to that portfolio because of his intimate knowledge of the foreign debt and reparations situation. Word of this had reached the Progressives of both parties, and they were said to have opposed Young.

Although all concerned were reluctant to discuss the situation, there was a general feeling around Warm Springs today that Mr. Roosevelt might have agreed to support of the Progressive bill for unemployment relief and appointment of Senator Cutting as secretary of interior in exchange for lack of opposition to his selection for secretary of state.

Several Thousand Sign Protests Against Amendment To Constitution Is Ratified Today

Missouri Is 36th State To Act Favorably On 20th U. S. Amendment

CHANGES TIME OF CONGRESS SESSION

President Will Also Take Office On January 20 Hereafter

(BULLETIN)
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 23.—Missouri today became the thirty-sixth state to ratify the resolution abolishing the lame duck session of congress thus sounding the death knell to lame duck legislation. The Missouri house passed the lame duck resolution in a special session this morning. The senate had taken similar action last week.

The action of thirty-six states was needed to abolish congress' lame duck session.

The house was not scheduled to meet until 2 p. m. this afternoon but William H. Meredith, speaker of the house, issued a call for members of the house to hurry to the capitol so that Missouri could have the honor of dealing the death blow to lame duck legislation.

The legislatures of Massachusetts and Nevada also are to consider ratification of the 20th Constitutional Amendment today but their action is made unnecessary by the vote of the Missouri house this morning.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The Norris lame-duck amendment took its place today as the twentieth amendment written into the United States constitution.

Missouri was the thirty-sixth state to ratify, casting the deciding ballot in the two thirds rule.

Final adoption of the amendment was hailed by Senator George W. (Continued on Page Seven)

Premier MacDonald Begins Conferences With British Cabinet

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 23.—Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald today launched active preparations for Great Britain's next move toward war debt revision.

Abandoning his usual morning walk, he conferred with numerous prominent government officials in preparation for the cabinet meeting, which will be devoted to a close scrutiny of the latest war debt communication from the United States.

The communication notified Great Britain of the decision reached by President Hoover and President-elect Roosevelt that a British war (Continued On Page Two)

I'm a-longing for the feeling of a shovel in my hands and a flock of plants need sticking in the moist, soggy earth when a fellow can be busy ere the sun gets on the job, and his seeds and shrubs get going, just to show what they are worth. Won't be long until it's with us, spring and planting, weeds and hay, that's the time to keep condition, weather's forty nine today.

Hens Speed Up On Production Of Eggs

Biddies Think Spring Has Come And Are Doing Their Bit

Owing to the warm weather there has been a big drop in the price of eggs during the past two weeks. Hens apparently believe that spring has come, and how they do cackle. Poultry raisers are having a hard time getting rid of their eggs. Retail prices have dropped. So far the whole month of January has been comparatively warm, summer temperatures being registered on several occasions.

The warm weather has been a boon to the needy, as less coal, clothing and food have been required. There has been a noticeable falling off the coal orders at county relief headquarters.

PENNINGTON READY TO FIGHT CRITICS

Flings Challenge To Congressman

Entire Rumpus Is Over $8.45 Discretion Declares Prohibition Administrator

SOME RECEIPTS MIMEOGRAPHED

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Commander John D. Pennington, prohibition administrator for Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, today was ready to "fight in the open the enemies who made the government spend thousands of dollars to uncover an $8.45 indiscretion."

Flinging back a challenge to Congressman Tinkham of Massachusetts, who accused Pennington of using government facilities to print W. C. T. U. propaganda, the dry administrator said:

"The entire cost to the government so far as I was concerned was $8.45 for the paper" on which was mimeographed receipts for non-alcoholic fruit drinks.

"You would think Mrs. Pennington and the W. C. T. U. came into my office with bushel baskets and walked out with them loaded down with money," said Pennington, who claimed the whole thing has been "terribly exaggerated."

Thousands of dollars were expended by investigators, it was estimated, in tracking down "the evidence." Pennington's estimate of the cost of mimeographing was higher than previous computations which placed the cost at $7.20.

avenue Sunday in their bare feet. This looks more like spring and summer than any robin I've even seen.

For the past few days every morning seems to be the calm after the storm. At night the wind howls around the corner of the house so that it seems impossible to get to sleep, then comes morning with the sun shining bright and the weather like a day in spring.

Pa New observed quite a number of different states represented in New Castle, Sunday. He saw license plates from California, Maryland, New York and Ohio. However the Ohio plates attracted more attention to Pa New's eye than the others because of the combination of colors.

This idea of playing basketball in the middle of the street is dangerous business and being that quite a few accidents have occurred already in this way ought to be a warning. Boys will keep on playing until a passing auto almost runs them then they will run for the curb. But sometimes something happens before the last boy reaches safety.

Wurtemburg, with two bridges in the course of construction, looks about as great a picture of prosperity as any locality in western Pennsylvania. Work on the structures has been delayed considerably because of the winter, but with the advent of spring the renewal of activities should result in completion of the bridges within a few months. A detour from Ellwood City is necessary to reach the Portersville road at the present time because of the bridge construction.

A secondary improved road extending from the vicinity of Harlansburg to the East Brook district is being constructed with the foundation of local stone. Good progress is being made on the highway.

mission of nine members to draw up a statement of facts which will be used as the basis for definite recommendations looking toward a settlement of the controversy.

Fateful Week As the committee met to take action under paragraph 4 and thus usher in what may prove to be one of the most fateful weeks in league history, it was informed by Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general, that Japan had again threatened to withdraw from Geneva unless the league showed an inclination to temporize.

Yosuke Matsuoka, chief Japanese delegate, told Sir Eric that there was virtually no chance of Japan remaining in the league should the final assembly make a final report condemning the Japanese course of action in Manchuria.

In an effort to forestall invocation of paragraph 4, International News Service learned, Matsuoka exerted all his efforts to swing the Japanese government into a last-minute acceptance of the committee's amended draft resolution, but failed. The sub-committee appointed to draw up a report on the situation consisted of representatives of Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy, Spain, Sweden, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Switzerland. Its report will outline the failure of conciliation efforts due to Japan's unwillingness to accept the draft resolution and then proceed to set forth all the facts of the Manchurian dispute. When the full committee has made its recommendations, the matter will be turned over to the league assembly for a final decision.

DO HEADACHES DRIVE YOU CRAZY?

It's the worst kind of folly to dope and drug yourself every time you have one of those blinding, throbbing headaches. Poisons created in your own body cause these severe headaches, and you must remove the poisons to get relief of a lasting nature.

By starting the new harmless Cream of Nujol treatment, today, you may free yourself from this constant torment.

This new form of Nujol is specially designed to rid you of poisons which very often cause this condition.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS HEAR BACALAUREATE SERMON SUNDAY NIGHT

"War March of the Priests" and "The March of the Fiambeaux." As the class marched out at the close the audience remained seated.

Principal F. L. Orth and Thomas Stevenson, president of the senior class, led the long line of students.

Audience Takes Part

"America the Beautiful" was sung by the audience as soon as the last senior had reached his place, with Dr. Philip C. Pearson, rector of the Trinity Episcopal church, delivering the invocation immediately afterward.

Then came a special vocal number, entitled "Ave Maria," by Rachmaninoff, sung by a mixed chorus of 15 students, part of them seniors, under the direction of Miss Gladys Rich, supervisor of music in the city's schools. They were sung "a cappella choir," without music accompaniment, and in the Latin text.

Dr. Pearson followed with the reading of Dr. Bennett's scripture passage, and closed with a fervent prayer in which he petitioned God to enrich the lives of the graduates, to bless education generally and to brighten the lives of those poor and destitute.

After the choir sang its second number, "O Bone Jesu" by Palestrina, Dr. Bennett commenced his sermon which consumed nearly 30 minutes. At the close the audience united in singing "God of Our Fathers." Dr. Pearson pronounced the benediction and the orchestra, with Prof. J. F. Replegle leading, began the quiet recessional march.

Commencement Friday

Commencement activities for the class will conclude on Friday evening, January 27, when the text numbering approximately 225, is graduated at the Cathedral. Special exercises will mark their graduation program.

Members of the chorus that occupied the stage with the bacalaureate speakers were Olive Hay, Stella DeMaasi, Lois Marion Smith, Georgia Parker, Gertrude Graham, James Chill and George Kyle, all graduates-to-be, and Julia Boston, Florence Burry, Helen Evesenick, Jane Miller, Louise Mitchell, Ruth Miller, Carolyn Lawton and Sammy Davis, undergraduates.

Students from the lower classes of the school served as ushers last night.

Dr. Bennett's Message.

Dr. Bennett's stirring sermon on "The Great Requirement," in part, follows:

One of the most impressive and suggestive of all verses of scripture is the one we are using as our text this evening which is found in Micah, sixth chapter, eighth verse: "He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

Although Micah is known as one of the minor prophets, yet he is one of the most interesting characters of the Old Testament. He happened to be living in one of the most strenuous periods in the history of the Hebrew people. The great Assyrian empire was at the height of its power during the years just preceding 700 B. C., and almost the whole world of that day had fallen before the onslaughts of the Assyrians. Micah, with his keen insight, realized that the same calamity that had befallen the other nations would soon come to his own beloved country of Judah. He believes this disaster to be inevitable particularly because of the terrible moral and religious conditions into which his own people had fallen. Even the favored city of Jerusalem with its sacred and glorious temple of Solomon was as guilty as the rest of the country. A good idea of the terrible conditions of the people can be secured as we notice the fact that even those who were supposed to be the religious leaders and the dispensers of justice were the worst offenders in their corruption and Micah condemns them in the severest language: "Thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that make my people to err. Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and rulers of the house of Israel that abjure justice, and pervert all equity. They build up Zion with blood and Jerusalem with iniquity. The heads thereof judge for reward the priests teach for hire and the prophets thereof divine for money."

Hear Voice of God.

In the midst of this immoral and irregular situation Micah hears the voice of God speaking and suggesting that there is a possibility of the people being saved from the impending disasters but only upon condition that they meet God's requirement. As this sense of guilt comes to the prophet himself he seeks to find the way to forgiveness. It is then that he asks the question: "Wherewith shall I come before Jehovah, and bow myself before the high God? Shall I come before him with burnt-offerings, with calves a year old? Will Jehovah be pleased with thousands of rams, or ten thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sins of my soul?" These words indicate that the prophet fears that God does require something of us in return for His wonderful goodness to us, yet he would have us understand that God will not be satisfied with mere external gifts or ceremonial worship. To Micah, real religion does not consist in the ceremonial, however impressive or beautiful that may be, but to him real religion is something to be lived, not acted. In living this religion the prophet reveals to us in simple, but impressive language the three things included in "The Great Requirement."

The First Requirement.

"But to do justly" is the first of the three requirements. In the statement Micah is in perfect accord with the famous suggestion of Amos to "Let justice roll down as waters and righteousness as a mighty stream." To these old prophets there was no such thing as religion without justice. Jesus also reminds us of the same requirement in His Golden Rule. If the time ever comes when Christians all over the world are ready to put the Golden Rule of Jesus into active operation, then will we have real justice in the land instead of in theory as it is very largely today. Then, too, if that day ever comes when real social justice becomes a fact of human experience, then shall we see realized the ideal hope voiced by both Micah and Isaiah: "And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Prescribes Golden Rule.

It is not, however, in the field of international relations alone that the spirit of justice is badly needed. We are all well aware of the present unsettled conditions in the great field of economics and industry and whatever may be the real causes of this condition there is no doubt but that social injustice has had something to do in producing this chaotic situation. Certainly a little more of the practice of the Golden Rule in industry and economics would go a long way toward solving many of our present day social and economic problems.

"And to love kindness" is the second of the three graces included in "The Great Requirement" of Micah. Always to be just in our dealings with our fellows is a great achievement, but to have justice tempered with kindness is a greater achievement. We all believe that a little kindness often works wonders where mere justice alone would fail. I am satisfied that common every day kindness has been one of the much neglected Christian graces but there is abundant evidence of a new expression of human kindness that has come as the result of the depression. There is no doubt but that these trying days have produced a new sense of brotherly kindness toward those in need as is evidenced both by the wonderful contributions that have been made to the various appeals for financial help as well as the desire on the part of so many to share what they have with those who have not. This spirit of kindness will undoubtedly be one of the desirable products of an otherwise undesirable experience. There is no doubt but that it was the gracious kindly spirit of Jesus that helped win for Himself a large following and that led Him to sacrifice so much for others. If we could always be guided by this love of kindness, the great prophet speaks about it would be a wonderful thing both for society and for the church.

God—Must Worship Him.

"And to walk humbly with thy God" is the third of the three graces of Micah. We cannot think of any more wonderful combination than that of justice guided by the spirit of love and mercy and then climaxed with a humble fellowship with our own heavenly Father. To "walk humbly with thy God" has a great many implications. It means that we will frequently be found reading our Bible for it is here that we allow God to speak to us through those to whom He has revealed Himself. It means also that we will frequently be found in the spirit of prayer which is our opportunity to talk with our Lord. To talk humbly with our God, in fact, means that we will be found with Him in His own house as often as we have the opportunity and especially as we sit with Him in humble and loving fellowship at the Lord's table. Further still, to walk with God means that we will be willing to go with Him down into the valleys of sin and suffering to serve and save those who need our help. If we can always walk humbly with God every other Christian grace will come into our lives as a natural sequence.

CHINA PLANNING STIFF DEFENSE IN JEHOI AREA

behind closed doors, it was reported resistance measures would be approved and that Chang would be given full authority to conduct the defense.

Reports from all parts of China indicate a vast defensive military force was being assembled, ready to go to the defense of the threatened territory as soon as possible.

Chinese troops from the vicinity of the Mongolian frontier were reported moving into the Jehoi area, determined to defeat Japanese attempts to capture Jehoi City, the Capital, and to thwart Japan's ambition to annex the province to the Manchukuo government.

Offensive Ordered

TOKYO, Jan. 23.—Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, military commander in North China, has ordered a Chinese offensive against the walled city of Shanhaikuan, where the great wall of China meets the sea, according to advices today.

The reports said Chang had ordered troops to proceed against the city, wrested from the Chinese early this month in a bloody battle in which more than 1,000 were killed. The city is considered an important gateway to Manchuria and Jehoi province object of a Japanese advance.

May Withdraw

According to the Japanese advices, General Ho-Chi-Kuo who commanded the Shanhaikuan garrison when the Japanese took the city has been placed in charge of the Chinese counter-movement. Other Chinese troops were reported to have moved to the defense of Jehoi City.

Minister of War Sadao Araki declared the failure of the League of Nations to meet Japan's demands in regard to the Sino-Japanese Manchurian dispute might result in Japan's withdrawal from the league.

Deaths of the Day

Mr. Mill's Funeral

Funeral services for Henry Mills were held Friday, January 20 at 1:30 p. m. at the late residence, 302 Boyles avenue, with Dr. Norris A. White of the First Methodist Episcopal church in charge. There was a wealth of floral tributes, indicating the esteem in which Mr. Mills was held and the services were attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Among those present from out of town were Mr. Abe Miller and Dr. Shaw of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. William Curless, Mr. Howard Galland and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Credenman of Edgewood, Pa. Dr. and Mrs. Lester Kearn, McKees Rocks, David, Helen, Mildred and Wilbur Credenman of Swissvale and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. St. Clair and son of Cleveland.

The pallbearers were P. J. Gemble, S. M. Black, C. H. Bauder, Russell Urmon, Myron Rice and William Ray. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Viar

Mrs. Elizabeth Viar, aged 70, died at her home on Neshannock avenue Saturday, January 21, at 5:15 p. m. following a short illness. Mrs. Viar was born in Bedford City, Virginia, September 11, 1862. She had been a resident of this city for the past fifteen years and was held in high esteem by all who knew her.

She was formerly a member of the Episcopal church in Virginia. Her husband preceded her in death. She leaves one daughter, Mrs. H. W. Moore of this city, also a grandchild and one great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday, January 24 at 2 p. m. at the Book-Leyde Mortuary, 337-Neshannock avenue, with Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church in charge. Interment will be made in Grace-land cemetery.

Mr. Singer's Funeral

Funeral services of John Singer were held Friday, January 20 at 3:30 p. m. at the late residence, 1117 Cunningham avenue, with Rev. A. M. Stump of St. Paul's Lutheran church in charge.

The pallbearers were Joe Eve, Carl Jingles, Paul Ariz, Martin Bender, Mike Opreidiger and Martin Hill. Interment was made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Robert C. Crouch

Mrs. Caroline Marquis Crouch, wife of Robert C. Crouch, died at her home, 148 Penn St. Washington, Pa., on Saturday afternoon, January 21st.

Putting in Cement At Church Property

Advantage of the warm weather is being taken by the owners of the old United Presbyterian church property at the foot of the court house hill. The front part of the church has been torn away to make room for a gas station. Today a cement mixer and a force of workers are being employed to cement the space which has been cleared by a removal of part of the church.

DAUGHTERS OF 1812 PLAN COLONIAL TEA

The Daughters of 1812 held an interesting meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. D. Cobau, 202 East Moody avenue with Miss Helen F. Reed, of Sharon, as associate hostess.

Mrs. Grace M. Greer, regent, presided, and following the flag salute and devotionals by Mrs. W. H. Weinschenck, business items were brought up. Mrs. E. F. Toepfer was appointed to the American Citizenship committee with Mrs. H. W. Dean assisting.

Mrs. F. A. Pinkerton read replies from Mr. Hadley in behalf of Carmona and Mrs. Hoag in behalf of Flax-Patch Schools expressing their deep appreciation of gifts sent during the holidays.

Mrs. Nellie Brooks exhibited a plate belonging originally to an 1812 soldier which created much interest.

A discussion of various topics, among which were of special interest those concerning "Prohibition" and "Buy American," filled in a greater part of the afternoon.

At a seasonable hour refreshments were served by the hostesses with Miss Virginia Weinschenck assisting.

On Saturday, February 18 at 2 o'clock the Daughters will meet at the home of Mrs. Grace M. Greer, 414 North Jefferson street with Miss Laura Marquis and Mrs. Ida M. Hamilton as joint hostesses. This meeting will be in the form of a Colonial Tea and the Gold Star Mothers as special guests.

Novel Party Held

A novel party was held at the home of Miss Geneva Fleming of Moore avenue Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Harry Patterson of Butler. The guests, all former chums of Mrs. Patterson, each brought their memory books and kodak albums and much pleasure was derived and the renewing of old memories when reviewed. Other pastimes were contests in bridge and the assembling of jigsaw puzzles.

Mrs. E. Cox and Mrs. Ronald Horchler were aids to the hostess in serving a dainty collation at small tables prettily appointed in a color scheme of pink and green. While this was in progress the hostess presented Mrs. Patterson with a beautiful evening bag in behalf of those gathered.

Negroes Forced To "Walk Home"

Twenty Negroes Arrested In Industry, Pa., Are Taken For Ride And Dumped

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Twenty negroes who claimed they were members of a party of 50 arrested in Industry, Pa., driven to a point near Waynesburg and dumped out with orders to "walk to West Virginia," today were to leave here on their trek back home.

The party stopped at Waynesburg Saturday night, sleeping in the jail after being fed by the community. They were accorded similar treatment here last night. Four women in the group were lodged at homes of members of their race.

According to the story told by the "hikers," they had been arrested in a raid on an industry boarding house during a party which they admitted was noisy. Kept in jail Friday night, they were then loaded into three trucks and driven for several hours and finally dumped out. They said the other 30 victims had continued on to Morgantown.

Many Wounded In German Rioting

Communists Throughout Germany Launch Attacks On Nazis Groups

(International News Service)
BERLIN, Jan. 23.—Communists throughout Germany today launched retaliatory measures against the "provocation" of Nazis in holding a political demonstration under the windows of the red headquarters.

At least 35 Nazis, Communists and police were injured in rioting as Communists sought to break up the rally.

At Cologne, 400 demonstrators stoned police, who fired on the mob, killing three, seriously wounding five and injuring five others.

One Nazi and two Communists were stabbed at Dortmund and a Socialist was wounded at Leipzig. At Halle five persons were injured as Nazis and Communists engaged in a stone battle.

Viscountess Is Given Divorce

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 23.—A famous international marriage came to an end today when Viscountess Furness, the former Thelma Morgan Converse, American society beauty, was granted a divorce on grounds of misconduct.

Viscount Furness, British shipping magnate, did not contest the suit.

Lady Furness named Helen Griselin as correspondent, charging her husband had been guilty of misconduct with her in a Paris hotel in October, 1932.

Lady Furness is the twin sister of Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt.

NEGROES FORCED TO "WALK HOME"

Twenty Negroes Arrested In Industry, Pa., Are Taken For Ride And Dumped

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Twenty negroes who claimed they were members of a party of 50 arrested in Industry, Pa., driven to a point near Waynesburg and dumped out with orders to "walk to West Virginia," today were to leave here on their trek back home.

The party stopped at Waynesburg Saturday night, sleeping in the jail after being fed by the community. They were accorded similar treatment here last night. Four women in the group were lodged at homes of members of their race.

According to the story told by the "hikers," they had been arrested in a raid on an industry boarding house during a party which they admitted was noisy. Kept in jail Friday night, they were then loaded into three trucks and driven for several hours and finally dumped out. They said the other 30 victims had continued on to Morgantown.

NO LAME DUCKS HEREFTER

WE ARE seeing the last days of the "Lame Ducks." It has required a great many years of effort to exterminate them, but the job is in rapid progress of consummation. The Constitutional Amendment eliminating the short session of congress every two years is moving along to ratification apparently without opposition. The states were given seven years for consideration. Two years would have been more than ample. Last week several legislatures gave their approval, bringing the ratification list up to thirty-one. When five more have acted all will be over. This winter will end the matter.

Hereafter a president elected in November will be inaugurated in the following January. So will members of congress. Each two years they will come directly from the people, instead of waiting, unless a special session is called for thirteen months before taking their seats. There will be no such waiting this year, because shortly after President Roosevelt is installed the new congress will be summoned. The flight of the "Lame Ducks" from Washington will take place March 4. There will never be another.

The congress to be chosen in November, 1934, will organize in January. It will adjourn for recess just as it sees fit. There will be nothing except its own resolutions to prevent continuous sessions.

SHADES OF SUMMER!

Although the North Dakota state senator, who introduced a resolution proposing that thirty-nine states secede from the union leaving the stripes in the flag to the nine eastern "financial states," may have been absolutely sincere and though his resolution may reflect some sentiment in certain quarters, no one took him seriously, and the public reaction to it was the opposite of that hoped for.

This politician from the plains no doubt believes that his nine "financial states"—New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island—did rob the other 39 helpless states and then left them like foundlings to die of exposure and starvation. He would rather for reasons of personal and civic pride, admit that he and his 39 states had been flimflammed than admit that they had got themselves into the present mess.

Sectional agitation of this sort serves no useful purpose. No informed Dakotan believes that his state has been a pawn in the hands of scheming easterners, but rather takes pride in the fact that his state has often received from the federal government more than it has given it in taxes and that it has sold the "financial states" more than it has purchased from them.

Uncle Sam has been able to play Santa Claus to some of the smaller states because he has been able to levy heavily upon the half dozen or more states which pay the bulk of the federal tax bill and come out at the short end in the distribution of the benefits.

TWO SIDES TO IT

Gov. Schmiedeman has asked all Wisconsin judges to refrain from enforcing the law on mortgage foreclosures for 90 days until the legislature can pass a law providing some form of relief for owners of mortgaged property—supposedly a provision for a moratorium of three years on foreclosures.

The constitutional objections to this bill, under Section X of Article 1 of the United States constitution, which forbids any state to make a law impairing the obligations of contracts, is declared to be answered by a Wisconsin supreme court decision on a law of 1858, upholding the setting of a year's interval between delinquency on mortgage payments and final loss of the property.

It may be that the federal courts would find a difference between a three year extension at the discretion of the judge and a purely procedural statute like the earlier one. In that event, it would do the farmer or home owner little good to evade the sheriff and the circuit judge, only to have his mortgage foreclosed by the federal marshal and the federal judge.

All possible and proper help should of course be given to unfortunate men and women, who, through no fault of their own, find themselves confronted with foreclosure proceedings and the loss of their farms or homes—for the urban home owner is in as bad case as the farmer, although his plight doesn't get talked about so much.

However, a moratorium law is a difficult proposition. There are two sides to the story. Many old people, for example, who have scrimped and saved all their lives to amass a little nest egg for old age, have invested that nest egg in what has always been lauded the soundest investment—a real estate mortgage. A moratorium plan would no doubt mean that many old folks, now meagerly living on incomes from mortgages, would be thrown on public charity. Trust funds for widows and orphans, too, are freely invested in mortgages. This side of the picture needs to be examined.

Also to be reckoned with are owners of mortgaged property, who instead of figuring how to pay their debts spend time devising means to get out of paying them. A moratorium would enable many of them to evade payment to the serious damage of honest lenders of money.

Perhaps the legislature may be able to devise some form of moratorium or similar relief that will protect people who sadly need protection and tide them over to better times. We sincerely hope so. But a law that helps them and at the same time ruins equally worthy people isn't the right solution.—The Milwaukee Sentinel.

The worm has turned. At least it isn't standing for all the suggested tax increases.

After the house saves $250,000,000 by paring appropriations it will spend a billion for a batch of votes.

A geologist reports that Manchuria is in many respects like Illinois. But what does a geologist know about shooting?

Japan's foreign minister says he doesn't like China's war-like moves. Wouldn't there be a howl from the Japs if the Chinese shot up Tokio?

Perhaps Japan did borrow from America some of the high pressure salesmanship methods she is using in China but blowing up the customers is her own idea.

At last the country is getting back to fundamentals. A man who purchased a drug store at a public sale announced he would reopen it as a drug store.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

WHAT'S OUR JOB?

I leave the office in which this is written and walk the city streets until I come to an old square where there are fine old trees, and where there is a little memorial in the name of a man who came our way in sickness and in poverty—but left us a heritage of courage and wisdom and kindly living. On my way to that square I would pass many of my fellows. I'd see ragged fellows and I'd see proud folks stepping out of limousines. I'd pass a woman with joy on her face. I'd meet many a sorrowful mortal. I'd pass two nuns walking gently with eyes on the ground. I'd note a haggard woman, pretty once, bedraggled now. I'd meet broken men and stalwart men who have never known a defeat.

I'd see Fear and I'd see Courage. I'd see Pettulence and I'd see Patience. I'd see corpulent Greed and joyous Humility. I'd be bumped by Arrogance, and sneaking Fear might pick my lean pocket.

A child would leave its mother and run dangerously across the street. A policeman would stop the traffic to help an old lady along her way. . . There's be little of life I'd miss in the few short blocks that separate me from the green square where Robert Louis Stevenson is remembered in bronze and stone in our San Francisco.

And when I come to that green spot I shall stand and start at a little bronze ship sailing valiantly with its sails spread wide on a small bronze sea, and it will remind me of that slender figure of a man who battled through such stormy seas of sickness and came at last to a quiet haven where life was almost a friend of Death. . . And, standing there, I shall read a thought of his that is cut in stone:

"To be honest—to be kind—to earn a little—to spend a little less. To make upon the whole a family happier for his presence—to have a few friends and these without capitulation—above all, on the same grim conditions to remain friends with himself. Here is a task for all that a man has of fortitude and delicacy."

And were all of us who pass and re-pass upon the city street, trusting and hurrying, joyous and grieving, to meet before this monument and read its message, there's not one of us that would not say "That's true. That surely is our job."

HAVE A PLAN!

In your efforts to get along do you stumble about in the dark most of the time?

For some reason you do not seem to comprehend what you are trying to do or what is expected of you.

Energetic enough, but you seem to rush along without a plan. You don't seem to have a well-established course and if you have no definite destination, you have no object toward which to steer.

If you really desire to get along, your purposeless methods will result in nervousness and make you less capable of meeting requirements.

Perhaps you depend too much on physical effort and not enough on mental guidance.

What is your mind for, if not to direct your plans and your work?

It does not matter how many movements you make with your hands and feet if they are not directed in the right way, you achieve little.

The most valuable part of you is in your head. If you do not use what it contains, the rest of your body will not amount to much.

Men who hold big jobs and get large salaries are the ones who furnish the brains and present day needs call for brains and hard, practical thinking.

Are you doing any of it?

Bibles continue to hold the record as the world's most widely distributed and largest selling work. The New York Bible Society has reported that in 1932 a total of 302,563 copies were distributed, and that the book has been printed in four additional languages—Goanese (a mixture of Portuguese and East Indian), Xosa, a dialect of South Africa, Tonga, another African dialect, and Seneca (Indian).

A college professor says that thinking is a form of blushing. Blushing, he said, is caused by blood rushing to the face. Thinking is caused by the same process, only that the blood rushes to the brain. We are glad to note that there is enough blushing and thinking to prove that assertion.

Believe it or not, but yesterday I ran into two old-fashioned (or were they new-fashioned?) "drunks".

One was loudly informing the world that he could lick anything from Gene Tunney to Mussolini. The other, true to the comic page, was gratefully hugging a lamp post for support.

"Drunks" are "drunks" in "dry" days or "wet" days. The prohibition "souse" and the corner saloon "souse" are brothers in distress. One makes about as big a monkey out of him- self as the other. And both are a sad and sorry sight.

It is impossible to print all the stuff sent to us in this column. It's hard enough for us to keep out of jail at times without making things even worse.

Three hundred eager guests waiting the opening of the dining room doors, for the town has a huge summer colony, and the visitors from the cities patronize the suppers and food sales well. The biscuits, the brown bread, the cakes and the pies were on the tables. Pickles of every imaginable size, shape and color, sweet and sour, together with catsup, chili-sauce and slaw, weighed down the boards. In the kitchen the aroma of coffee filled all space. Two bean pots were on the stove.

"Shades of loaves and fishes," thought I, "must a miracle happen?" "You see it's this way," said my friend, "it is so very much less work, and most people seem to prefer them, so we serve canned beans."

Daily Editorial Digest

Symposium of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nations on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press AssociationChanges In Bankruptcy Law Approved As Aid To BusinessGeneral Indorsement Of President's Demand Based On Need Of Protection For Both Creditors And Debtors
And For Conserving Of Assets

Unqualified approval of President Hoover's demand for amendment of the bankruptcy laws is extended in the comment on his message. The position taken is in harmony with the sentiments of both parties, and all are convinced that agreements to prevent wasting of assets should be facilitated.

"The more humanely the process can be carried through, the more quickly the wounds of this economic day can be healed," declares the DAYTON DAILY NEWS, with recognition of the need of "less force and more agreement in the settlement of the infinite entanglements in which debtors and creditors now find themselves." Pointing out that under present requirements "a minority of creditors may reject any agreement," the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS upholds the principle of providing an "opportunity for the debtor and the majority of his creditors to effect a reorganization and settlement through a court," with the direction of the court binding on the minority creditors.

"Holding that there has been a long-existing need for such legislation, The News sees an encouraging sign in the fact that 'spokesmen for regular Republicans, insurgent Republicans and Democrats all say that they approve the proposed amendment.' The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL also observes an inclination of the President's leadership" in this proposal.

"The old view," according to the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, "was that any single creditor could throw a debtor into bankruptcy when the debtor failed to meet an obligation. The new theory, now advanced by a retiring Republican President, smacks very thoroughly of what is coming to be the new philosophy of public and private rights, supposed to be entertained more warmly by Democrats—that individual rights are entirely subsidiary to mass rights." The TEXARKANA GAZETTE emphasizes the injustices of the present laws, which "numerate business have been entirely wiped out, with nothing left for the creditors," as a result of "forced sales, court costs and receivership fees." That paper finds an evil in "withdrawal of credits" which "business men are entitled under the credit system which has been built up."

Indorsing some courts which have endeavored "to prevent even the suspicion of waste or looting," the BALTIMORE EVENING SUN states: "To prevent an insignificant and often irresponsible minority from throwing a wrench into the efforts of a large majority in the work of securing a satisfactory settlement is the change most needed. Congress could make no better contribution to the country than an intelligent change in the law." The Morning Sun adds as to the purpose of proposed amendments: "They would facilitate and speed up the processes of financial reorganization in emergency cases, in order that the wheels of industry and commerce may continue to move without the interruptions that might follow recourse to the present legal remedies." One question is raised by the Baltimore paper in the relations between bondholders and stockholders in corporate reorganizations and it comments: "There is the ethical question of how far bondholders may be expected to go in the surrender of their rights without any compensating surrender on the part of stockholders. Expediency seems to counsel moderation and forbearance on the part of both groups in the case of corporations patently unable to meet their obligations. But the establishment of a proper relationship between the two is by no means an easy matter."

"There is no longer any excuse for delay," thinks the LEXINGTON LEADER, while the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL speaks for the protection of those "who can present good reason for having considerable treatment from their creditors," and the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS charges, "The practice of casting business organizations into bankruptcy and then looting them by sustained litigation and dissipation of the assets in fees has been exposed and attacked in some parts of the country. The federal marshals, however, when in proper hands, has been established as adequate. The question now is one of writing the best policy into laws barring the exercise of discretionary power."

"The far-reaching consequences of the proposals," according to the ROANOKE TIMES, "will be understood by every banker and every lawyer. They will not fail to note and understand the significance of the provision that a mortgage-holder willing to reduce the amount of his mortgage or the rate of interest can do so and at the same time can require that other creditors do likewise."

"The case is one of obvious urgency," agrees the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, with the further statement: "President Hoover declares it has a 'major bearing on the whole economic situation in the adjustment of the relations of debtors to creditors' and recommends immediate consideration as an emergency action. Right now there is a demand that the law encourage, rather than impede, equitable settlements and readjustments. Once more the President has pointed to a way in which constructive work may be advanced."

In explanation of the need, the ALTOONA MIRROR asserts: "Debts contracted when prices were high and the dollar cheap are now so topheavy that a resort to the bankruptcy laws is about the only remedy. Debtors cannot pay and creditors take a loss if they foreclose. Under the present bankruptcy law, with a system of fees eating up the assets, creditors may expect little and the debtors lose their original investment."

THE PARTY

Six friends for tea, and when they came

With rapture were her eyes aflame

And pretty was the smile she wore

As they were welcomed at the door.

With beauty was the table spread,

Where many a merry word was said.

The rooms were bright as they could be,

No friend a sign of dust must see;

No friend must come and find a trace

Of preparation commonplace.

And so all day they waited stout

The little home she'd toiled about.

They praised the food as friends will do,

They laughed and sang the evening through.

They recognized and felt the grace

And beauty of her dwelling place.

But never once she let them see

That night how very tired was she.

Would Limit Charge For New French Phones

Philadelphia Senator Would Cut Fee For New Telephone Hand Sets

WOULD ABOLISH ADVANCE CHARGES

(Special To The News) HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 23.—If an act presented by Senator Samuel W. Salus of Philadelphia is passed and signed, your "French" telephone will not cost you an additional fee after it has been installed three years. At the present time the telephone company charges subscribers 25 cents per month additional for the installation of these new telephones.

The bill also would limit the additional charge for the use of the phone to 15 cents per month for the time it was subject to the charge. Senator Salus also has a bill in which would abolish advance payments of charges for service by utility companies, minimum payments and deposits to secure future payments and penalties. Service charges would also be prohibited by the act.

A number of bills bearing upon public utility companies have been presented by Senator Salus. One would give the state authority to supervise the issuance of securities by utilities, and requiring the companies to account for the disposal of the securities.

Another bill would regulate supervise and control holding companies operating utilities, requiring approval of contracts between holding companies and operating companies, and provides for the disallowance of such charges in certain contingencies.

Still another act would require the approval of the Public Service Commission before increases in rates could be put into effect. At the present time an increase goes into effect when the company files its new tariffs. In the case of disapproval of the new rate by the Public Service Commission, it is thrown out but the subscriber must apply for his refund for the additional rates paid in the interim.

Final Exams In Progress This Week

First Semester Near End At Westminster—Second Semester Starts Monday

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 23.—Final examinations for the first semester started last Friday at Westminster and will continue this week until Thursday afternoon, Dr. James A. Swindler, registrar, announces.

Registration for the second semester, at which time a number of new students will enroll according to Wm. A. Johns and A. A. McDonnell of the personnel department, will start on Monday, January 30. Freshmen students will register for classes on this day.

Upper class students will register on Tuesday, January 31. The second semester classes will get under way on Wednesday, February 1 at 8 o'clock in the morning.

This new plan of ending the semester on Thursday instead of Saturday gives students a recess period of two days between semesters and allows time for the office forces to check grades and credits so that registration will not be held up.

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 23.—The Rev. J. Reade McCrory, Cambridge, O., a graduate of Westminster college with the class of 1907, will conduct a week of special religious services at the college early in February, Dr. R. F. Galbreath announces.

Beware the Cough or Cold that Hangs On

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

Letters Intended For This Column Must Be Signed With Name And Address Of Writer

GLOSNER COMMENTS

Editor: New Castle News, Jan. 20, 1933.

Cheer up young man and young lady, now as to this depression you all hear so much about. It is not so bad, after all the talk and worry. Is money becoming scarce or tied up? The writer of this article saw it just as scarce and hard to get when in Pittsburgh about 25 years ago.

The undersigned was secretary and treasurer of a corporation and banks issued scrip to employees. We lived through same, and will again. In this case, some different, we had our attention fixed on the almighty dollar and forgot we have a creator over and above mankind. We depended too much on the heads of our government as the cream of our country; and since the Tax Justice League got organized they find that instead of the cream in many cases we only have skimmed milk.

The department of agriculture struggled along with $19,000,000. In 1911, and ran up a bill of $296,000,000 in 1932. It had to have a lot of experts experimenting on how to wash an oyster, how to sweet a lemon, how to make cattle feed out of sawdust, and hundreds of other things well worth knowing but space will not permit.

In one of our adjoining states the citizen's budget commission is trying to do something to save the financial situation. Same as our Tax Justice League is doing in New Castle. The city payrolls in that state were investigated recently. Among other items, it was found that $821,000 a year was being spent for the care and handling of 250 horses, supposedly being used in the sanitation department; but only twenty horses could be found. Another item for $9,653 a year, the salaries of three engineers "whose sole duty it was to handle ten tons of coal a year and the city was paying a bill of $200,000 a year for private telephones in the homes of city employees.

Of course there must always be taxes for the necessary expenses of the government and the salaries of the city, county, state, and United States government officials. But of late years the representatives of the tax payers in all these divisions have been spending the people's money in all sorts of extravagant ways at twelve times the rate they spent it in 1890 and 60% faster than they spent it in 1921.

Schemes for wasting money have been hushed through congress and the state legislatures by people who are organized to bring pressure and exert influence. One of the busiest federal departments is the Department of Commerce and it spends a lot of money. In 1914 it got along with $10,000,000. In 1932 it had to have $54,000,000. It had to hire men to find out if gas meters measure correctly, to write safety rules for large employers, to hunt for a perfect soft drink syrup, to find out whether a roughened golf ball could be driven faster than a smooth one.

One great trouble with us at present, we are getting back to earth again and it does not look natural to us. Now get into your church pews and get your minds and attention on the hereafter and forget about the depression. Our taxes are beyond reason; but the Tax Justice League will adjust our troubles. Step up to the wall in your residence, turn on electric light, you pay tax.

At present we have 4,283,753 of school age and cannot read or write. None of the above know the needs of our country.

We have some intelligent men but not one that can create rain or sunshine and still greater revolve this old world. But graft and corruption has got us all excited. The Tax Justice League will get us back to earth again. Today there are 44 states on the same principles with Pennsylvania to adjust the tax situation. So cheer up, meet your neighbor with a smile.

G. D. GLOSNER, R. D. 3.

ETHERIZED GIRL floats in Air

ILLUSION!

This very old illusion was invented by Indian fakirs. The secret was unearthed in 1849 by the great magician, Robert-Houdin. At that time, ether had just been discovered, and little was known about it. Houdin claimed that he had discovered that this new anesthetic could make people light as air. To prove it, he caused the subject to rise into the air and float apparently suspended. He passed a hoop around the body to show there were no wires or supports.

EXPLANATION:

There are many explanations for this old trick. One is that the girl wears a concealed harness, which ends in a socket between her shoulder blades. This is attached to a piston below the stage. The piston is pushed up from below, causing her to rise in the air. The piston is invisible, because it is covered with mirrors which reflect surrounding draperies, similar to the background. The magician can pass the hoop over her body because it is cut in one place. It can be pulled apart for a second when it passes the piston.

It's fun to be fooled — ...it's more fun to KNOW

Another "magic show" is cigarette advertising.

One of its greatest tricks is the illusion that cigarettes can be made miraculously "MILD" through manufacturing methods.

THE EXPLANATION: All popular cigarettes today are made in modern sanitary factories with up-to-date machinery. All are heat treated—some more intensively than others, because raw, inferior tobaccos require more intensive treatment than choice, ripe tobaccos.

The real difference comes in the tobaccos that are used. The better the tobacco, the milder it is.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

This is why Camels are so mild. This is why Camels have given more pleasure to more people than any other cigarette ever made. It's the secret of Camels' rich "bouquet" ...their cool flavor...their non-irritating mildness.

All the natural, ripe goodness of Camel's tobacco is kept fresh for you by the famous air-tight, welded Humidor Pack. Don't remove it.

Federal Employment Service Lags As To Results In State

By ARTHUR C. WIMER, Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 23.—Despite the fact that its expenditures are higher in Pennsylvania than in all but two of the 48 states, the federal employment service has placed more unemployed in positions in 31 of the states than in Pennsylvania.

Testifying before the house appropriations committee, Supervising Director of the Employment Service John R. Alpine said that in the fiscal year of 1932, ended last June, the labor department had spent $32,164 in salaries and $1,560 as travel expenses on the Pennsylvania branches of the employment service. Expenditures were higher in only New York and Massachusetts.

During the period of April, 1931, to October, 1932, inclusive, however, the federal service placed only 3510 unemployed in positions in the Keystone state. Placements were more numerous in 31 of the 48 states.

For the third time G. C. Birdsall, of Susquehanna, had the heaviest ton litter in the State. Fourteen pigs grown by this northern Pennsylvania breeder tipped the scales at 3500 pounds at 180 days of age, the end of the prescribed feeding period.

New Jersey Man Is Inventor Of New Type Tanks

J. Walter Christie, Has Perfected Lightweight War Tank

CAN FLY OR BE USED ON GROUND

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1933, By International News Service)

LINDEN, N. J., Jan. 23.—Europe and the Orient bristle with bayonets. Nations are baring their teeth at each other. Curt notes are being exchanged.
The common man talks of another war around the corner, the military professional is looking straight ahead.

A modest machine plant lies quietly on the edge of a rock-strewn field barren except for its caterpillar ruts, a trench and a testing ramp.

The eyes of many nations are turned upon the site, gazing curiously and intently. Emissaries from many armies are sent. Bribery of employees is attempted. There is a sliding upper panel in the door so that visitors may be inspected before entering.

There is a secret within the walls of this two-story mechanical laboratory which many powerful governments would like to learn.

A new war engine of defense and offense has been devised.

Revolutionize Warfare

If the claims of its inventor and the opinions of certain high military leaders are upheld, it will revolutionize warfare as much as did the machine gun, the aeroplane, the submarine.

It is a military tank which flies. It can be attached to a plane through a special device. It can be released or dropped (you can't hurt a tank) through the action of a lock lever. Another compound model has wings attached directly to the tank.

The flying tank, in two models, weighs respectively 3½ tons and 5½ tons. It travels sixty miles an hour on caterpillar chains in any man's field, 90 miles an hour on rubber-tired wheels and can be flown in the air at 120 miles an hour.

Fifteen Years Work

It represents the evolution of the clumsy, unwieldy, slow-moving monstrosity introduced by the British during the World War to a high-speed, efficient and compact mechanical soldier not unlike an armored racing automobile.

It took J. Walter Christie, tank engineer, fifteen years to perfect the plans.
His wife and he have spent close to a half-million dollars in experimentation.

"The basic principle behind the flying tank is its light weight. A light tank is the most extensive spring action that can be devised," said Christie in an exclusive interview with International News Service today.

Praised By General
"This reduction in weight has been accomplished by scientific study, the elimination of parts, the adoption of simple transmission, a very high grade of alloy steel and the formation of the chassis frame. Of course, the details of the design and construction must be kept secret."

"During the World War, the heavy tanks in use weighed sixty tons and the lightest ones weighed 7½ tons. Neither type could travel faster than six miles an hour."

The chief of staff of the American army, General Douglas MacArthur testified before a house committee hearing on the army appropriations bill that Christie tanks were the best in the world.

McKeesport Man

Suicide Victim

W. & J. Graduate And Former Member Of State Auditing Department Kills Himself

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 23.—Howard Ballard, Jr., 25, Washington and Jefferson college graduate and former employee of the State auditing department, shot and killed himself in his apartment at McKeesport, early today, according to police.

Ballard was the son of a prominent McKeesport physician.
Police found the radio in Ballard's apartment blaring out music when they answered the summons of Ballard's landlady who found the body.

Present List Of Volunteer Firemen

When council met in the city building today a list of all the volunteer firemen in the city of New Castle was presented to council. It is the annual custom of council to exonerate the volunteers of occupational taxation.

Volunteer firemen who receive wages from a public treasury will not be exonerated, council indicated. The list was referred to councilmen, each of whom will scan the list, before exoneration is granted.

PAY WILSON $25.00 FOR HIS INJURIES

Upon the recommendation of Solicitor White, council during their Monday session in city hall, authorized payment of $25.00, to Paul Wilson who claims he had been hurt when he stepped on a loose covering of a manhole in South Croton avenue, required to undergo medical attention.

Prisoner Declares Capone In Prison Remains "The Big Shot"

NOTE: Following is the first of a series of three stories describing Al Capone's life in federal prison at Atlanta, where he is serving a sentence of 11 years for income tax fraud.

The author is an ex-convict who worked in the prison shop with the notorious gang leader. He has just been released after completing a sentence of 28 months for impersonating a federal officer. He was committed from Philadelphia. The facts as to his own case have been verified.

The fact that since Capone's incarceration no newspaper reporters have been permitted to see him, and virtually nothing about his life behind the bars is known to the public lends added interest to this series.

By EX-CONVICT No. 35,503
(As Told To International News Service)

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 23.—Al Capone remains "the big shot."

He was the "big shot" in the years he dominated Chicago's racketeering underworld and he is still "the big shot" behind the gray walls of Atlanta prison—at least so far as his personal comfort and special privileges are concerned.

Outside of actually being permitted to leave the walls, he gets about what he wants over there in the big house, far more at any rate than the ordinary prisoner.

Plenty Of Money
Plentifully supplied with money (although no other prisoner is permitted to have more than $10 at one time) he still wears the silk underwear that he boasts costs him $12 a suit, he wears suits tailored for him in the prison tailor shop and the specially made shoes that he says cost him $25 a pair.

Other convicts wear the regulation prison issue garb.
He receives and sends a voluminous mail, although other prisoners are limited to writing two letters a week. On the ground that it is "business correspondence" much of it goes uncensored. I've seen him get lots of uncensored letters.

In the matter of visitors, too, he gets a fairly free hand. They're coming down here all the time from Chicago to see him, and Al persuaded the authorities to let him have a special room in which to see them. There isn't any guard around when Al talks business with his friends.

Work Is Slight
His "work" in the shoe shop is more or less a joke. He usually shows up for an hour or two in the morning to tack on some rubber heels. Then there will be visitors, or he goes to the hospital for treatment, or plays tennis. He has special hours on the tennis courts.

Often he spends nights in the hospital, where there are regular matrons on the beds instead of the straw ticks used in the cells. Sometimes he eats with the other prisoners. Sometimes he doesn't.

With his money, he can buy things from the commissary that are a good deal more appetizing than the prison grub, which isn't so hot.

But with all his money and his special privileges, Al Capone is a mighty unhappy man.
When he first came down to the prison, he cried on everybody's shoulder that would listen to him about how he had been "double-crossed" and "cheated" by the authorities in Chicago. He said he had distributed three hundred "grand" in Chicago to insure a light sentence, but they crossed him up, he said.

"I've heard him put his head in his hands and say, 'Oh, why did I do it?' I don't know whether he meant the crime for which he was sentenced or the three hundred 'grand'."

Not Popular With Inmates
Naturally, getting all these privileges, and his perpetual "crabbing" against his fate and everything else hasn't tended to make him very popular with the other inmates. He has a small clique around him that toady to him for cigars, cigarettes, extra food, and other things that make life in there more endurable.

The prison commissary even put in his own favorite brand of cigars. He buys them by the box.

He gets a good deal of "razing." He can't take it very well, either. They call him "grape ball" and "wop" and "macaroni bender" and make obscene cracks about his being "a big shot."

And he will yell at them, "shut up, you mugs, I've handled more dough than you and all your families ever saw," with plenty of profanity mixed in it.

He has been trying for some time to wangle a transfer to the new federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa., to which most of the Italians have been sent. But he hasn't had much luck yet.

(EDITOR'S NOTE.—Tomorrow's story will describe some of Capone's cronies behind the bars and further depict his life.)

RICK ASSIGNED TO LOCAL GUARD TROOP

Second Lieutenant Benram Charles Rick, who recently was granted a second lieutenant's commission in the organized reserve, Cavalry section, has been assigned to duty with Troop F, 103rd Cavalry in the event of Federal service.

Rick, who resides at 305 North Ray street, is now a corporal in Troop F, but if the troop were called into Federal service, would advance to the rank of second lieutenant.

There are books written in the Polish, Hebrew, Italian, Arabic, Spanish, German and French languages in the collection. The books are almost constantly in circulation.

Twelve or fifteen Hungarian books were borrowed from the B. F. Jones Memorial library of Alliquipp and in return the local library loaned to the library some Italian books.

It was found that cataloging the books presented some difficulties to the library staff. The staff could take care of the French, Italian and Spanish books but they needed aid with the others. Miss Josephine Sroczyńska of the Y. W. C. A. graciously offered assistance in cataloging the Polish books; Rabbi Menkes helped with the Yiddish books; and Miss Joseph helped with the Arabic volumes.

Over at the public library there are 375 books the reading matter of which is quite unintelligible to the majority of the library's borrowers.

But these volumes furnish great enjoyment for foreign-born people of the community who have not mastered the English language well enough to enjoy reading English-written literature.

"It is not the young foreign-born people who use these books, nor the children who were born in America of foreign parents, but those older people who have spent most of their lives in Europe," Miss Alice Sterling, librarian, explains.

AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION IS RATIFIED TODAY

Norris (R) of Nebraska, its author, as a long step forward in governmental efficiency.

Norris was happy that his continued fight for this reform, a fight launched years ago and pressed with unremitting zeal, was at last crowned with success.

Inaugurate President In January
Under the new organic provisions, the terms of President-Elect Roosevelt and Vice-President-Elect Garner will expire January 20, 1937, instead of March 4, 1937. Terms of members of the seventy-third congress will expire January 3, 1935, rather than on March 4. Thereafter the inauguration day for all presidents will be January 20, following the November general election, while the new congresses named at the polls in November will take office the third day of January.

The short session of congress beginning on the first Monday in December and lasting until March 4 of the next year will be abolished. In its place there will be an annual session which can hold all the year if the legislative program warrants.

"The only opportunity the people of the country have to express their ideas and wishes regarding national legislation is the expression of their will through the election of their representatives at the general election in November," said Norris.

"Men are elected to congress then for the purpose of enacting the will of the people into law. Under a Democratic form of government, especially, the wishes of the people should be crystallized into law as soon as possible after these wishes become known."

"Under the old system, not only are these representatives, but elected by the people, prohibited from tending on their duties but they must stand idly by while the old congress, many of whose members have been repudiated at the polls, proceed to legislate."

Such a condition does not exist in any other civilized country upon the globe. The evils of such a condition are apparent to any student of government. A congress repudiated at the general election may put on the statute books laws that were actually condemned in the preceding election."

U. S. Representative Here To Investigate Wages Paid Wreckers

For the purpose of setting a standard wage rate for labor on the demolition of the buildings on the public square site of the new post office, Miss Emmeline Pitt, United States Commissioner of Conciliation arrived here today and immediately began work.

Miss Pitt came to New Castle at the request of Eugene Sheridan secretary of the Structural Iron Workers union and other craft union men who complained to her that the Harris Wrecking Company was paying 25 cents per hour for labor, as against the standard established by the state here of 40 cents per hour.

what is considered a living wage. Further, the Bacon-Davis act and the executive order of President Herbert Hoover set down certain standards which cannot be deviated from in the employment of labor on public work.

"No contractor is permitted to get his labor by contract and thus enable him to evade paying the standard rate of wages. No contractor entered into between a laborer and a contractor calling for a lower rate than the standard paid in the district, is valid, and no contractor is permitted to make any arrangements which would result in a lowering of this wage scale."

"The matter will be decided definitely Wednesday at a conference between myself, Mr. Eliscu and certain representative men of New Castle. I expect to call in contractors of the city who have a knowledge of the prevailing rate of labor, representatives of labor unions, the president of your New Castle Chamber of Commerce, L. G. Genkinger, chairman of the Emergency Relief board, Senator George T. Weingartner, and other citizens who would be of value in deciding this question. Because of the lack of space the conference will not be thrown open to the public, but we want every angle of public sentiment represented."

"Pennsylvania has established a 40 cent per hour labor rate for labor in this district and I believe this is fair. Certainly the federal government, which should be the ideal employer, does not want to be the one to cut the labor rate down to a point below what is fair and just, and it certainly will not permit private contractors to do this on public work."

"The federal building program was begun to alleviate unemployment throughout the country. Certainly it would be unfair for any employer to take advantage of the situation and employ labor at rates below

STATE LEGISLATURE RESUMES SESSIONS TONIGHT

Repealers Ready To Be Reported

Significant Measures To Be Reported From Committees On Tuesday

SEVERAL PROBES WILL BE STARTED

By ROBERT F. GORMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HARRISBURG, Jan. 23.—Legislative machinery of the state government resumes operation tonight with the Assembly facing new opportunities to maintain the pace it set for itself in the first three weeks.

Before the close of the week it is confidently believed some of the measures scheduled to furnish the fireworks of the 1933 session will be before the members for action.

Report Important Measures
The House Law and Order committee planned to release two significant measures tomorrow, one repealing the State Drug Enforcement Act, another modifying the Sunday statutes. Sponsors of the bills anticipate the House will dispose of this burden as early as possible, passing the liberal legislation on to the Senate where the real test will be made.

These measures, however, if reported out tomorrow, would not be up for final action in the lower branch until next week, at the earliest.

Two more investigating committees will start functioning this week. In the House tonight, Speaker Talbot will designate the personnel of a group that will study all employment relief legislation under the provisions of a resolution adopted a week ago.

In the Senate, James S. Boyd, president pro tempore, will name that branch's representatives on a joint legislative committee that will delve into highway department affairs.

Economy Programs Up
Budget problems and details of the economy programs proposed will be matters confronting both houses this week. The general appropriation bill carrying recommendations of Gov. Gifford Pinchot for the 1933-35 biennium has been introduced in the House and referred to committee.

Kindred legislation carrying threats to eliminate many state activities in the name of economy will result in numerous material changes in the bill. It is expected the measure will go through the House with few alterations. In the Senate it will undergo its real transformation, returning late in the session for concurrence in the amendments.

Salary Slash?
The significant item on the Senate calendar for tonight is the Reed bill providing a salary slash for the state legislators. Their salaries would be cut from $3000 to $2500 for each regular session, under terms of the bill, while the remuneration for a special session would be boosted from $500 to $750. The measure, if passed, could not become effective until 1935. The constitution prevents salary reductions for officers during the terms for which they have already been elected.

Two bills sponsored by Senator Harry B. Scott, Centre, also are on the Senate's final reading calendar tonight. One would make counties liable for the costs of trials resulting from crimes committed on property by prisoners committed by these counties. The other bill provides for appointment of special police officers at Penn State College.

The House will not have a final reading calendar before tomorrow. Five bills are on second reading for tonight.

Three Of New York's "Big Shot" Gangsters Will Give Themselves Up To Police

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Arthur Flegenheimer, better known as Dutch Schultz, New York's public enemy No. 1, and his two lieutenants, Frank Ahearn and Henry Stevens, were expected to give themselves up to federal authorities today to answer charges of tax dodging.

Warrants for the trio were issued Saturday.

Borah Favors Plan Of Reflation For Balancing Budget

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Currency reflation offers the only hope of balancing the budget and restoring the income of the American people, Senator Borah (R) of Idaho declared today.

Borah endorsed the plan of Democratic leaders in congress to slash federal expenses $500,000,000 but assailed the proposal for a $500,000,000 annual sales tax as "cruel in the light of diminishing profits, falling prices and decrease of purchasing power."

Banking Reform Bill Speeded Up

Glass Bill Is Speeded Toward Final Enactment With Objections Removed

HUEY LONG IS ACTIVE FOR BILL

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The Glass banking reform bill moved rapidly today toward final senate approval.

The big fight over the bill ended when the senate overwhelmingly endorsed a compromise amendment limiting branch banking by national banks to those states which permit this form of banking by state institutions.

Senator Long (D) of Louisiana, leader of the filibuster which paralyzed the national upper house for more than a week, declared he would "go along" with proponents of the bill.

"Most of the opposition in my state has been removed by this amendment," said the Louisiana "Kingfish."

Male Escort Of Girl Beaten Up By Men, Girl Dragged In House

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Jan. 23.—Eight men, who assaulted a 19-year-old girl and beat up Frank Stadler, 29, who was escorting her home from a dance early Sunday morning, were the object of a police search here today.

The girl, suffering from shock and bruises in an Erie hospital, told police she was snatched from her escort and dragged into a house by the men.

Miss Helen Lytle spent the week end visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. E. McCowen, of West Bridgewater.

The ladies missionary meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. A. L. Whitaker will be in charge.

Miss Dorothy Hoover, who has been confined to her home by illness, will be able to resume her school duties this week.

There will be a Bible study class Wednesday evening at 6:30 followed by prayer meeting at 7:30 and choir rehearsal at 8:30.

The members of the athletic association will hold a meeting on Thursday evening, January 26, at the Shenango school auditorium.

A delightful twelve dinner was held by the members of the Y. P. C. U. Thursday evening. Following the dinner, Mrs. Gustafson, a returned missionary, gave a most interesting talk.

Misses Jessie and Helen Lytle will be hostesses to the members of the Willing Workers class of the Calvary Presbyterian church Monday evening, January 23. The class is taught by Mrs. K. Lutz.

Miss Janice Mayberry was given a most pleasant surprise recently when her mother, Mrs. Merle Mayberry entertained a group of her friends at a birthday party. The hours were spent in playing games after which the hostess served a delicious lunch. The guest of honor received many lovely gifts in memory of the day.

Mrs. E. Holzhauser and son Edward, and daughter Edythe and Miss Isabel McCannally spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Holzhauser's brother, Otto Gumble of East Palestine, Ohio.

Men Of Church To Have Social

This evening at 8 o'clock the Men's Bible class of the First Christian church will have its monthly meeting in the church and have invited as their guests all the men of the church; a social time will feature the evening.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the church, will be the speaker of the evening and he will tell of his trip to the Fiji Islands.

Chevalier Evasive On Re-Marrying Question

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 23.—Maurice Chevalier, French motion picture star, likes Yvonne Vallee better than ever since their mutual divorce.

Will he re-marry? Ah, this is another question.

The answer is yes and no—a Hollywood sort of reply.

Following the granting of the Paris decree last week, charming Mlle. Yvonne Vallee declared that if anything should happen to Maurice, "I'd be the first person he'd call and I would rush to him."

In order to obtain his views on the divorce, International News Service today submitted five questions to the film star at Paramount studio where he is preparing for his next picture.

Answers Questions.
Following are the questions and his answers:
Q. Has the divorce affected the friendship of you and Mlle. Yvonne.

A. It seems to me that from what she has said to the press in Paris about me I am going to like her more than ever.

Q. Will you ever again marry?
A. To that question, I will have to give a Hollywood answer—yes and no. I mean, I don't think so.

A. Is marriage a hindrance to a screen career?
A. That is very difficult to answer. I feel that if an artist is really sincere in his efforts to be a success, he will devote too much of his time to accomplish this success. Marriage naturally suffers.

Q. Yours was a "mutual divorce." Are you in favor of this type of divorce?
A. I think it is the right kind of a divorce for persons who realize they cannot continue their marital harmony. It is fairer to both parties.

Q. What of the reports of a romance between you and Jeanette MacDonald?
A. Such rumors are unfounded.

Bank Directors Name Officers
Directors of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company met Saturday, January 21, and organized for the coming year. The election of directors had been held previously by the stockholders and the meeting Saturday was for the purpose of organization only. The following officers were elected:

E. McGill, chairman of board.
Thomas H. Hartman, president.
Charles H. Johnson, Jr., first vice-president.

F. A. Schulz, executive vice president and treasurer.
A. W. Tindall, assistant secretary.
W. K. Huggins, trust officer and solicitor.

Simple to Lose a Pound of Fat a Day on a Full Stomach

Here is a quick and easy way to take off a pound a day—four to seven pounds every week!—with never a hungry moment. A way any doctor will tell you is safe and sure.

This is what you do: Take a teaspoonful ordinary Jad Salts in glass of water half hour before breakfast every morning. This reduces moisture-weight instantly. Also cleanses your system of the waste matter and excess toxins that most fat people have, and banishes puffiness and bloat.

Then do this about eating. FILL YOUR STOMACH—eat your fill of lean meats, vegetables like spinach, cauliflower, cabbage, tomatoes, etc., and lots of salads. Eat a lot. Eat all you can hold. Don't go hungry a minute. Cut down on butter, sweets and desserts, bread. Eat any fruit for dessert.

That's all you do. Fat seems to melt away. The coarse lines of overweight give way to the refined lines of slenderness. You lose as much as a pound a day. You feel better than for years.

For in this treatment you achieve two important results. The Jad Salts clears your system of toxins. "The diet takes off fat with food that turns into energy instead of weight."

If you're tired of being embarrassed by fat, try this way. You'll be glad that you did. You can get Jad Salts, large or small size, at any drug store.

"Note particularly—Jad Salts is urged purely as a poison-banishing agent—not as a reducing. The change in food does the work."

Have Few Citizens On Relief Rolls

North Beaver, Wilmington and Scott townships enjoy the distinction of having fewer residents on the relief rolls than any other townships in the county, according to the county commissioners. In North Beaver township, there are only two families receiving aid and about half a dozen who have been given flour. Wilmington and Scott townships, show about the same proportion. Plaingrove has a few more on the relief rolls owing to the mining district.

CRUELTY CHARGED IN DIVORCE CASE

Butler High Here Tuesday

New Castle Will Fight To Hold First Place In Section Three

JOHNNY URAM TO PLAY LAST GAME

Butler high school basketball minus three of their star performers Mintz, Little and Fitzmartin will clash with New Castle high floor team here Tuesday night at George Washington Junior high floor. The reserve teams of the two schools will play the preliminary game starting at 7:15 o'clock. This is the final game of the first half of the season in Section Three and finds New Castle as yet unbeaten.

Last Game For Uram.
Captain Johnny Uram will play his last game for New Castle high tomorrow night and is bound to get a lot of support from the fans. Uram has been just as good a basketball player as he was on the football field. The New Castle high team is going to miss him.

Butler high following their defeat of the tattered Beaver Falls team at Butler last Friday will be hard to beat. The Heinzer coached team is in second place and they can tie New Castle for the leadership by taking the measure of the Bridenbaugh team here.

Important Bearing.
Annually the New Castle-Butler battles have had an important bearing on the Section Three race. This year is going to be no exception. Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh is anxious to add the Butler team to the list of victims, and will have his New Castle passers at top speed. The same lineup will prevail for the last time with Uram and Teplica at the forwards, Ridley at center and Kominic and Reiber at the guards. Battley who will replace Uram according to all indications may see a lot of action, and also this youngster Miles is showing up well and may gain a berth at center if he continues to improve.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is making plans to handle an overflow crowd. The same regulations that prevailed at the recent game with Beaver Falls will be in force, with the students and general admission fans getting their tickets at separate places. The fans are also requested to place the three entrances to the building, and enter the gate marked for their particular section.

FALCON JUNIORS WIN
The Polish Falcon Juniors defeated the St. Phillips and James Juniors at the St. Mary's floor 29 to 7 with Noga, E. Koszella and W. Koszella the big stars of the game.

Chip Stops Fight To Save Perotta

Second Firpo-Perotta Bout Goes To Firpo In Third

Fighters may come and go but none will ever display more courage than George Perotta exhibited in his second fight with Henry Firpo. The battle was stopped by George Chip in the third round to save Perotta from further punishment.

After having been floored nine times Perotta was on his feet, bruised, bloody and weary but courageous, ready to face whatever punishment the Louisville "executioner" would have dealt him. The bout will live long in the memory of New Castle fight fans.

Firpo had won the first fight on points. Perotta claimed he had not had capable training partners. After a week or more of negotiations the second bout was arranged for August 27, 1928. The bout drew a gate of $3,133 and the biggest crowd of fans up to that date.

Crowd Drunk With Excitement.
Fandom's lust for thrills was fully appeased and to say they were not would be deliberate falsification. To remark that they were drunk with animal lust for blood would be quoting nothing but the truth. It was sufficient to satisfy the most blood-thirsty.

Following the fight the writer wrote: "The crowd was the biggest that had crammed the bowl or any other fight arena hereabouts. They witnessed a fight, the like of which they may never see again and while Perotta was defeated he was not disgraced. No siree, not one iota."

Perotta in a measure paved the way for his own downfall, as he did not take a full count when Firpo sent him down the first time in the second round and after that the eager-eyed "executioner" never gave Perotta a chance to recover.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Teddy Yarosz and Eddie Kid Wolfe, welterweights, are doctored for a 10-round punch duel at Pittsburgh tonight.

Melvin Ott, outfielder from Gretna, La., has agreed to terms for 1933, the New York Giants have announced.

Waite Hoyt has signed to pitch for the Pirates this year. He is a right hander.

When she tripped on the railroad tracks at a grade crossing in Lemberg, Poland, Stella Walsh sprained an ankle and tore a tendon in her leg which may leave the leg weak. A Warsaw specialist said he doubt if she will be able to continue her athletic career. She won the 100 meter dash for Poland in the Olympic games.

A good scrap is on tap Tuesday night in Los Angeles when Speedy Dado, Filipino, tackles Baby Arizmendi, Mexican, in a 10-round bout. Arizmendi has been picked to box Kid Chocolate for the featherweight title at Agua Caliente the night before the $50,000 handicap is run.

Collegians To Play St. Marys

St. Marys Hopes To Stop Undefeated Harrisburg Five Tonight

St. Mary's varsity basketball team will attempt a task tonight that has not been accomplished yet this season. It being a win over the collegians of Harrisburg. The Collegians have defeated some of the best teams in Erie, Meadville, Greenville and other nearby cities. St. Mary's has won all but one or two of their games this season and have a galaxy of stars in their lineup which will try to check the Collegians. The game will be played at St. Mary's auditorium, North Beaver street.

ROTARY WIN FROM GREYHOUNDS, 29-28
Rotary troop edged out Greyhounds 29 to 28 on the Ben Franklin floor, Saturday. Rotary had a comfortable lead in the first half but Greyhounds outplayed Rotary in the second half but fell one point shy of deadlocking the score which would have called for an extra period.

Titans Defeat Allegheny 39-28

Westminster Quintet Hands Setback To Allegheny Team At Meadville

NEWTON DOUGLAS STARS OF GAME

Westminster's band of Titan basketball players defeated Allegheny College quintet Saturday night at Meadville 39 to 28 in a non-league game. Newton, Douglas and Bennett led the Lawthermen in scoring. Allegheny offered little resistance to the United Presbyterians. The score at the end of the first half was 22 to 7 in favor of the Titans.

At one time in the first half Westminster held a lead of 20 to 5. Newton was yanked by Coach Lawther at the start of the second half of the game, after making four baskets. Sweeney who replaced Newton made a field goal.

Titans Clicked
The Westminster team was clicking nicely with Bennett at center. The Akron boy caged three field goals and three fouls for nine of the points. Serene was the best bet in the Allegheny lineup after entering the game at the end of the first half and Allegheny dropping through 14 out of 18 tries.

Westminster has but one game this week, meeting Thiel Saturday night at the New Wilmington floor. The summary:

"Hack Wilson Is Not Satisfied To Take Lower Wages"

"Hack" Wilson, Former Deamon Slugger Returns Contract To Brooklyn Dodgers

(International News Service)
MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 23.—"Hack" Wilson, the former Chicago Cubs outfielder, who held the home run record in the major leagues in 1930, today joined baseball's hold-outs. He returned his contract to the Brooklyn Dodgers unsigned, saying he was "absolutely unsatisfied" with the terms offered.

Wilson was paid $33,000 in 1931 by the Cubs before he went to the Dodgers for $18,500. It was believed Brooklyn offered him about $9,000 for his efforts this year.

Scholarships For Athletes Will Be Strictly Enforced

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Announcement of the middle states association of colleges and secondary schools that it would enforce its ban on sports scholarship was seemed certain today to have far-reaching effect on athletics in the many prominent institutions belonging to the association.

Prof. Adam Jones of Columbia, chairman of the committee dealing with the problem, revealed it had decided unanimously to ask all members to abandon athletic scholarships or their equivalents.

Penalty for violation of this policy will be removal from the approved list of institutions maintained by the organization.

Sexton Is Star Of Track Team

Leo Sexton Chosen As Outstanding Athlete on All-American Track Team

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Leo Sexton of the New York A. C. is the star of the annual All-America track and field team named yesterday by Daniel J. Ferris, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union. Sexton is picked in the shot put and two weight events.

Many critics today were unable to understand the selection of Ben Eastman of Stanford in the 880-yard run. Eastman, beaten three times by Bill Carr of Penn, failed to run in either the national championships or the Olympics at 80 meters, the metric equivalent of 880 yards. Carr was chosen for the 440-yard run.

Perris' selections follow:
60 yard run, Emmett Toppino; 100 yard run, Ralph Metcalfe; 100 and 200 meter run, Eddie Toian; 300 yard run, Horace B. Whitney; 440 yard run, William A. Carr; 600 yard run, Alex Wilson; 880 yard run, Ben Eastman; 1,000 yard run, Dale Letts; 1-mile run, Gene Voncker; 5,000 meter run, Ralph Hill; 10,000 meter run, Tom Ottey; 10-mile run, Paul Mundy; 15-mile run, Albert Michel; 20-mile run, William Steiner; marathon, Clyde D. Martak; cross-country, Joseph McCluskey; steeplechase, Joseph McCluskey.

Three Invaders Here Wednesday

Local Church League Teams To Oppose Teams From Other Cities

Three teams from other cities will play local basketball quintets at the Y. M. C. A. court Wednesday, according to announcement today by Henry MacNichols, athletic director.

The schedule follows:
First Christian, New Castle vs. Mercer Merchants.
First Baptist A vs. Youngstown Baptist.

Glass Shop To Re-Employ 200 Men

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 23.—After being shut down for several months, the plant of the West Virginia Glass Specialty Company at Weston will resume operations Wednesday, the management announces with 16 shops in operation. Employment will be given to 200 men and women workers.

Day and night shifts will be employed and manufacture will be concentrated on crystal tableware.

St. Andrews And Christians Will Battle Tuesday

St. Andrews and the Central Christians will play their third and deciding game of the series Tuesday night at the St. Marys floor. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock with the reserves of the two churches playing. Each team has won one game and the third game is bound to be a fast engagement.

Immediately after the big game of the evening the girls teams of both churches will play.

There will be a basket of groceries given away to the holder of the lucky number at the game tomorrow night. All those buying a ticket for the game will get a chance. The game will no doubt draw the largest crowd of the year to the St. Marys floor.

Plans For Economy In Criminal Court Procedure Sought

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 23.—To study the subject of economy in the conduct of criminal court, with a view to affecting a saving in this branch of the county government, a committee of local lawyers, headed by Attorney Thomas H. Greer, has been appointed by the Bar Association.

It is claimed that entirely too much time is wasted in the trial of cases, both in criminal and common pleas court. This generally consists in going over and over the testimony. More business like conduct of trials is advocated.

Grangers Dig Out Dusty Photos For Friends To Enjoy

What fun Mahoning Valley grangers will have at their program on Tuesday evening, January 24, might be difficult to forecast, but there'll be fun no doubt.

Miss Helen Jane Martin, lecturer of the organization, has asked each member to bring tomorrow a photograph of himself taken at least 10 years ago. The photos will be used in the program.

New officers of the grange will be in charge.

Two Farm Boys Held As Robbers At Connellsville

Self-Styled "Wild West" Robbery Nets Arrest For Boys, Also Stole Horse

(International News Service) CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 23.—Two farm boys today were held in $500 bail each for court action in connection with a self-styled "wild west" robbery in which the Holt department store at Ohlerville borough was looted of $100 in merchandise.

The boys, Robert Nelson and John Williams, said at their arraignment they had stolen a horse from the farm where they worked and ridden to Ohlerville where they broke into the store. They carried the loot back to the farm on the horse, they added.

Tax Payers League Will Meet Tuesday

Tax Justice League Officers Will Attend Meeting Of City Body

Tuesday evening's meeting of the Tax Payers League in their headquarters at 324 Neshannock avenue, which will convene at 8 o'clock, will be attended by officers of the Lawrence County Tax Justice League, which in turn is a member of the State organization.

Matters of considerable importance to the county will be discussed at this meeting and some of the county officials along with a good representation of rural residents are expected to be present.

MOTORIST HELD FOR INJURING OF MAN

(International News Service) RIDGWAY, Pa., Jan. 23.—Louis Redmond of Johnstown today was held by police as the alleged driver of the auto which struck and seriously injured Charles Kohler, 45, Johnstown, as he walked home from work.

Kohler is in Elk County General hospital here suffering a fractured skull and leg. Redmond was arrested when he was found driving a machine with broken windows. Police said he admitted striking Kohler.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Rush Concrete Work
On Depot's Stairway

The Seventh ward saw more activity around the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad's new waiting room job on Saturday than it has since the construction work commenced.

Contractor J. Clyde Gillfillan personally was on hand to supervise his large crew of nearly fifty in its work of pouring concrete for the new stairway which will lead from the new depot to Liberty street. Railroad inspectors were there to oversee the job.

If the weather continues as it has been since the Gillfillan company began the work, the completion of the entire depot improvement will not be much over a month away.

When cement pouring for the walls and ceiling of the Liberty street stairway stops, the cement will be poured into similar forms in the newly excavated subway which will connect the waiting platform with the present B. & O. station. After that the remaining portion of the concrete waiting platform will be laid and the train shed covering erected over it.

'SKATE' CRAZE FAILS TO SHAKE OLDTIMERS'
WEATHER PREDICTION

It might be like spring in the Seventh ward—just like uptown—and the youthful element may dig out their roller skates, but to the ward's oldtimers it means as little as a car would if it had no brakes. They're not to be fooled into making false predictions.

On Saturday afternoon it seemed as if most of the ward was "on wheels" by the racket that children hoists made as they skimmed over sidewalks on smooth-rolling wheels. You'd have thought it might be spring.

But just ask the oldtimers—brother, there's more winter ahead, they'll tell you.

AT BACCALAUREATE

Five seventh ward young men and women were among the cap and gown wearers on the senior high school platform last night at the baccalaureate service of the January.

STOP BAD BREATH

Thousands of people afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets brings no gripping pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c.

State Police Seek Man For Fatal Stabbing Result Of Baseball Argument

(International News Service)

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 23.—Widespread search was under way today for Walter Copley, 32, Melcroft, whom state police seek in connection with the fatal stabbing of Charles Grace, 32, also of Melcroft, as the climax of an argument arising at a pre-season baseball game here.

Spectators at the game said an argument arose over a play and a free-for-all fight quickly involved spectators on the sidelines, including Grace and Copley. Grace was stabbed four times during the fight.

Copley's brother Roy also was being sought as a witness to the killing of Grace.

Youth Education

Continues This Week

Cameron Ralston Will Conduct
Forums Through The County During This Week

The campaign for the education of youth against the pitfalls of liquor and the upbuilding of character among those who will be the future citizens of the nation will be continued this week by Cameron Ralston throughout the schools of the county.

This morning Mr. Ralston addressed the students at the New Wilmington high school; this afternoon he was one of the speakers at the County Sabbath School association after which he conducted the institute.

This week, each afternoon at 4:30 the institute, which is an aid to the young people who intend to take up speaking against the repeal of the 18th amendment, will be held in the lobby of The Castleton hotel instead of the North street school as last week. The meeting of the Saracens will be held in The Castleton ballroom at 7:45 this evening.

Tuesday at 11:40 Mr. Ralston will speak at the North Beaver township high school and conduct a forum and at 7:45 he will address the foreign young people of the city and county in the Emmanuel Baptist church.

At 8:30 Tuesday, Mr. Ralston, who is a World War veteran, will address the American Legion in the Legion Home, North Jefferson street.

The campaign will close Sunday, January 29, with a rally at 2:30 p. m.

Successful Meetings Have Been Conducted Through Past Week In Rural Church

The revival meetings that have been in progress during the past two weeks at the Harmony Baptist church on the New Castle-Elwood City road will continue each evening this week with the exception of Saturday.

On Friday evening the church auditorium was quite well filled. The Young Men's Bible Class of the First Congregational church of New Castle sang a number of gospel selections which were well received.

The Rev. Elbertson, pastor of the local Christian Missionary Alliance church gave a heart searching message from the theme: "The Supreme Question." He used as his text Acts 16:30.

On Sunday evening the pastor, Rev. S. L. Cobb, spoke from the theme: "The Bible's Most Important Message" basing his remarks on Matt. 24:44.

Home Is Damaged
Sunday Evening

One Side Of Double House
On Neshannock Avenue
Ravaged By Fire

Fire of undetermined origin, swept through a double house at 467 Neshannock avenue, Sunday evening, causing damage of approximately $1,000, covered by insurance.

The house is near the end of Neshannock avenue on the west side of the street, and is owned by C. H. Book.

When firemen arrived on the scene, the fire was found to be eating its way between the partition dividing the house beneath the roof, and along one side of the structure occupied by R. J. Hanna and family.

After a battle lasting over an hour, they finally succeeded in getting the blaze out. The house is an old structure which has been remodeled and added to, the roof having a number of odd angles in it, which made it difficult to extinguish.

Other Alarms

Saturday afternoon, firemen were called to 219 Mahoning avenue, by a still alarm, finding one of the queerest fires they have encountered in some time. Fortunately the loss was small.

New tenants had moved into the house about a week ago, and had connected a stove pipe into the center of the chimney.

Saturday, smoke was noticed coming out under boards in front of the chimney on the second floor. It was found they had connected up to a blind opening which came out beneath a piece of slate in front of an old grate on the second floor.

The smoke from the stove had been circulating through the house, and sparks from the chimney had finally ignited the space between the ceiling and the floor, burning out through the floor.

Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New

Along about the time the crows should be croaking, and the rock garden starting to show what's what, we will probably pay up for this southern winter weather. Old Dame Nature has just so much weather to hand out in 12 months and there usually isn't much left over at the end of each year.

Saturday and Sunday were the kind of days that have amateur gardeners poring over seed catalogues and summer campers thinking of camps along the Slippery Rock. Instead of woolen hose folks were thinking more about garden hoses and Sunday afternoon saw the highways full of cars going places.

Seems that speed trap over at Coitsville is developing into a game of tag. If the officer over there catches you he tags you and then the squire tags you out. Out about $15 or thereabouts. One New Castle motorist played the game through one afternoon last week, and won.

As he went through Coitsville the speed officer started after him. The New Castle driver kept on going, led the officer through Youngstown, doubled back and beat him across the Pennsylvania line. One way to avoid the Coitsville speed trap is to go to Youngstown by way of Campbelle.

Still another way, is to stay at home. After all, one shouldn't have to run the gamut of a cost crazy constable in order to get into Youngstown.

They're tearing down a lot of tradition on the public square along with the buildings being demolished to make way for the new postoffice building. For the past half century those buildings have stood there watching the flight of time and the events that went with it. And for the first time in more years than you can remember, the postoffice will not be on Mercer street.

And by the way, what ever became of the news given the public square? Right about the time of the war it was Pershing Square for a time. Ten years ago it was known as Central Square but both of the names have been discarded for the one that has stuck for a century.

touching such small offices as the constable and alderman.

He cited Chicago as an example of the city corruption and the case of Al Capone as a symbol of the racketeering interests and how they dominate the city, county and state and cannot be controlled within those limits and it took the intervention of the federal authorities to get this underworld character under lock and key.

Mr. Ralston said the only remedy for the situation is the awakening of the American citizens and the character building of youth, in order to have the future generation of citizens aware of the corruption that will eat in.

Interest shown in this meeting manifested itself in the many questions asked Mr. Ralston at the close of his address.

Supervisors Are Using Road Drages

Road supervisors throughout the county are using the present warm spell to drag the dirt roads. There has been no deep freezing so far this winter and the roads are in condition to respond to treatment. Supervisors find that by rounding up the roads and smoothing out the ruts with the drag, dirt roads can be kept in fairly good condition all winter. It is seldom that roads can be dragged at this season.

Men of County Hear Ralston

Central Presbyterian Church Is Filled With Men Hear Of Corruption Of City Life

A capacity crowd of men jammed into the Central Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon to hear Cameron Ralston noted Chicago lecturer, discuss various crime problems and their cure. Every seat was filled and many standing as the presiding officer, Clarence A. Patterson, opened the meeting. After group singing, led by Robert Duff, the Book-Lyde quartet favored the audience with several hymns. At the close of this well received program Mr. Ralston took the platform and in his usual terse, vigorous style, described the "crime cancers" affecting the country today. "Youth Character Building is the only solution to the problem" declared Mr. Ralston.

He pointed out how corruption had crept into city life and he described the channels through which it came and how far reaching it is.
